The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

COMPETENT JUDGES.

Beauty Doctors Endorse Herpicide.

Women who make a business of beautifying other women come pretty near knowing what will bring about the best results. Here are letters from two, concerning Herpicide:

"I can recommend Newbro's "Herpicide," as it stopped my hair from falling out; and, as a dressing it has no superior.

"(Signed.) Bertha A. Trullinger, "Complexion Specialist, "29½ Morrison St., Portland, Ore."

"After using one bottle of "Herpicide" my hair has stopped falling out, and my scalp is entirely free from dandruff.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

Missionary Conference.

The opening of the Protestant Missionary Conference in Canton, China, yesterday of the centenary of the landing of Robert Morrison, the English missionary, at Canton, was marked by the attendance of the largest body of missionaries ever witnessed in the far East. The missionaries met in the splendid auditorium of the new Chinese Young Men's Christian Association building, about 1,000 missionaries and foreign visitors being present, including the secretaries or representatives of 30 missionary boards and of the laymen's missionary association and ministers and laymen from the United States, Canada, Great Britain, Germany, France, Holland, Sweden, Switzerland, Australia, Finland, Hawaii, Japan, the Philippines, Siam, India, Korea, Ceylon and the Malayan archipelago.

Rev. Arthur H. Smith, of the Pangchuang mission of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and the Rev. J. C. Gibson, D. D., of the English Presbyterian mission at Swatow, acted as chairmen in the afternoon and evening, respectively.

About 2,000 persons were present at the evening reception, when Viceroy Tuan Fang, of Nankin, was represented by Taotai Wong, who welcomed the members of the conference and assured them of his friendliness to missionaries.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was the opening of the new hall erected in memory of the missionaries and others who lost their lives in the Boxer uprising.

The native and missionary delegates of the Baptists and Presbyterians and the Anglican bishops of China declared themselves in favor of a closer union of their respective churches, in order to make their work more effective.

Arrest of Would-be Assassins.

An anarchist, armed with a dagger, a loaded revolver and other weapons, was arrested in Brussels yesterday in a church which Prince Albert of Belgium, a nephew of King Leopold and heir presumptive to the throne, was about to visit.

One of the attendants of the church accidently discovered the man hidden in a confessional box, locked the door and called the police. Later three other anarchists, similarly armed, were arrested in the vicinity of the church. Two of the latter admitted that they were French anarchists. The authorities are convinced that the prisoners were engaged in a plot to assassinate the Prince.

On November 9 last Prince Albert was officially declared the successor of King Leopold as sovereign of the Congo Independent State and Novemder 13 of the same year he was sworn in as a member of the Belgian Senate.

The church which the Prince intended to visit was the Hal Church, or Church of our Lady and St. Martin, near Brussels, celebrated on account of an image of the Virgin in one of the chapels, which is said to work miracles. The image, which is of black wood, is visited by crowds of people and has received offerings of great value from kings and emperors.

Herculaneum Excavations.

The under secretary for public instruction, Signor Ciuffelli, replying in the Italian Chamber of Deputies on Wednesday to a question of Deputy Rampoldi on the subject of the excavations at Herculaneum said the government intended soon to begin the work. It would be given a thoroughly national character, in accordance with what the ministers believed to be the general feeling of the country; but, Signor Ciuffelli added, the advice of foreign scientists would be gratefully accepted.

In conclusion Signor Ciuffelli explained that the nature of the work and the ground where the excavations are to take place will not permit of extensive operations. It would be necessary to proceed gradually and thus find out the best way to continue the work and also form an estimate of the expense which it would be necessary to incur. If the present ordinary appropriation turns out to be insufficient the government will present a demand for further funds.

Spectacular Fire.

The fire at Allegheny, Pa., Wednesday night in the William Zoeller Packing Company plants, was spectacular and was witnessed by thousands not only in Allegheny, but in Pittsburg, opposite that place.

Early yesterday when the fire was thought to be under control a large fireproof warehouse, in which was stored 500,000 pounds of lard, suddenly burst into flames. All efforts to extinguished the fire in this department were futile and the firemen finally fastened the iron doors of the building, shutting in the burning lard. The interior of the building soon became a seething furnance. Spurting from crevices, doors and windows streams of hot grease ran into a sort of trench hurriedly prepared in an endeavor to prevent the hot fluid from spreading over surrounding territory.

Danger was encountered at every turn by the firemen, who stood by in case the walls of the warehouse should collapse and allow the blazing lard to reach the adjacent property.

Shortly after the fire was discovered and while thousands of spectators were gathered in the vicinity, a dozen large ammonia tanks exploded with terrific force. There was a panic among the spectators, but no one was injured. That no loss of life attended the fire is considered marvelous.

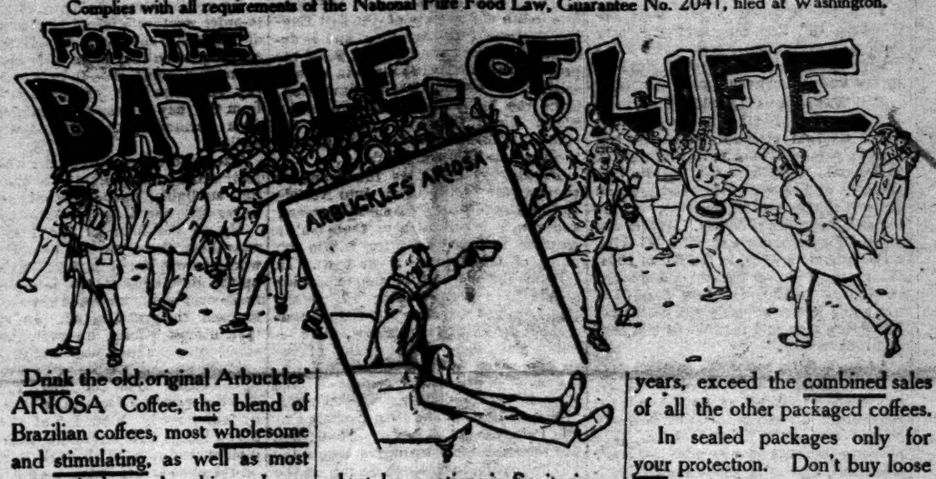
Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklin's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists. 25c.

Complies with all requirements of the National Pure Food Law. Guarantee No. 2041, filed at Washington.



Drink the old original Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, the blend of Brazilian coffees, most wholesome and stimulating, as well as most economical. Anything dearer than Arbuckles' ARIOSA is extravagant, and no one can sell as good coffee for the same price. People who drink Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee are not dyspeptics with fashionable nerves who take vacations in Sanitariums, on featherweight rations, but the healthy vigorous manhood and womanhood that constitute the useful majority. The first roasted packaged coffee; sales of Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee for 37 years, exceed the combined sales of all the other packaged coffees.

In sealed packages only for your protection. Don't buy loose coffee out of a bag, bin or tin that the roaster is ashamed to seal in a package with his name on it.

If your grocer won't supply write to

New York City.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 26 1907.

THE OPENING of the Jamestown Exposition today will be an epoch in the already thrilling and interesting history of the United States. President Roosevelt and Hon. Harry St. George Tucker in their addresses gave rapid glances at the remarkable growth of a mighty and prosperous nation from a little band which arrived at Jamestown Island three hundred years ago. The 105 souls which accompanied Capt. Newport on his ships, the Susan Constant, Good Speed and Discovery, have multiplied into a people of 86,000,000 souls, occupying a territory from ocean to ocean, possessing large over-sea dominions and dominating an entire hemisphere. There is barely such an instance in history. The annals of the new world from the time the little flock disembarked are among the most interesting of all the archives since the appearance of man upon the earth, and in perusing them a solid satisfaction settles over the reader from the fact that he is reading history, not fables, which are scattered through the early history of ancient countries, as well as some modern nation. The growth of the United States has been phenomenal, and the tide is still tending upward. At the beginning of the twentieth century it may be fairly said that the world is interested in the United States chiefly because of the constructive work, political and social, that the country has done in the past 300 years. Freed from the burden of traditions that weighed down the peoples of the old world, the United States has been able to conceive and put in practice principles of liberty that conduce to the dignity and happiness of mankind. Individual initiative has been given such opportunity as it never before enjoyed, with the result that vast natural resources have been rapidly developed and wealth has been widely diffused. In celebrating at the Jamestown Exposition the enterprise, the grit and success of the first Virginians, the real founders of the republic, the ceremonies will be graced by the presence and participation of diplomatic representatives of the leading nations of the world. They recognize the great achievements of our forefathers in the three centuries that have elapsed since Anglo-Saxon civilization was established in the Old Dominion, and they unite in congratulations upon the success that has followed us.

THE DEATH of Dennis Kearney, in San Francisco Wednesday night brings to mind certain recollections in the career of that agitator. The fame of Kearney as a labor agitator was, some 30 years ago, not only national, but international. This leader of "downtrodden workingmen," who used to urge the shooting of capitalists, finally became a wealthy operator on the San Francisco Stock Exchange. In 1899 it was said that his bank roll amounted to $200,000, all amassed in one year. The turn in his fortunes came at the time of the famous Leiter wheat deal. Dennis was quick to see his opportunity, and at the critical moment he "shorted," in the language of Wall stree. He netted $100,000, and then he said good-by to proverty and labor agitation. Most of Kerney's early speeches were written for him by reporters of the only newspapers that supported him, and they were made purposely incendiary. But his interpolations were decidedly racy. At last his attempts to bring about armed revolution aroused the better part of the community and he was sent to jail. The law cowed his followers and Kearney's reign was over.

IT IS thought by many people that Judge Loving made a mistake in killing Theodore Estes at Oak Ridge last Monday, especially before his victim could say a word in his defense. It yet remains to be proven, according to the opinion of some, that the young man was guilty of the crime imputed to him. If Estes was innocent, and many people who know the circumstances in the case and the parties connected with it believe he was, a terrible blunder was made by the father of the young woman. Judge Loving says he demanded an explanation from Estes, but before the latter could reply shot and killed him. Should it be shown that Estes was innocent of the crime imputed to him, the judge will be lashed by remorse as long as he lives. It would have been better for him to have been sure he was right before resorting to the use of his gun. Rashness has ever been dangerous, and the school books abound in anecdotes intended to deter people who are liable to go off half-cocked.

THERE is a Foraker Club in Iowa, but there is a Roosevelt Club in Washington, which is raining rapid and merciless blows upon the heads of all men who stand in the President's way. In New York and in Ohio the President is using his power of removal and appointment in the interest of Governor Hughes and Secretary Taft respectively, and if any federal officer shall join the Foraker Club of Iowa the other club will descend upon him. Concerning this state of affairs the Philadelphia Record says: "It takes a civil service reformer to get the most effective work out of the patronage machine."

MORE Virginia newspapers are consolidating. A few years ago the Leesburg Mirror purchased the Washingtonian, one of the old papers of the State, which for years had been ably conducted by Capt. Wm. B. Lynch, and the two were consolidated. Now the Mirror has purchased the Record and the publication of the latter paper will be suspended. The expense of publishing a newspaper has grown to be so heavy that but few counties in the State can afford to support more than one good paper.

VOTERS who wish to cast a ballot in the primary to be held this spring to nominate democratic candidates for the House and Senate and also for Congress will have to hurry to qualify if they have not done so. The last date on which the poll tax can be paid is May 4. The list of voters will be made up when the books of the city treasurer are closed that day. No one can get on who does not pay on or before that day. There are few voters, comparatively, who have paid the tax, and who have the right to vote.

From Washington.

Washington, April 26.

Accusing ex-Representative Binger Hermann of guilt in destroying public records and of alleged conspiracies with the late Senator Mitchell and Benson, Hyde and Dimond, the San Francisco real estate syndicate, District Attorney Baker in a strong argument closed the government's case today. Standing before Hermann whose wife and daughter was sitting beside him, Baker pointing his finger at the defendant characterized him as a felon. Asking for a return of a verdict of guilty, District Attorney Baker closed his remarks. Justice Stafford then charged the jury.

Elihu Root, Secretary of State, will leave Washington at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Clinton, N. Y., to visit at the bedside of his eldest brother, Prof. Oren Root, who is seriously ill and is not expected to recover. Prof. Root, who was formerly a professor in the Missouri State University, several years ago succeeded his father as professor of the chair of mathematics in Hamilton College at Clinton, upon the death of the latter. He is 69 years of age. Prof. Oren Root, the father of Professor Root and the Secretary of State, had held the chair since 1849. Hamilton College is the alma mater of Secretary Root and his brothers, as well as of his father.

Details of the sailing of the army transport Buford for China, under the direction of the American National Red Cross, with 28,000 barrels of flour for the victims of the famine, provided through the Christian Herald, have been completed. On the date of sailing from San Francisco, on April 30, impressive religious services will be held. Addresses will be made by Rev. Frank DeWitt Talmage, E. R. Johnston and others and Dr. Talmage will formally bless the cargo.

Brig. Gen. John W. Bubb, U. S. A., was placed upon the retired list of the army today he having reached the age limit of six-four years. As commander of Department of Dakota Gen. Bubb will be succeeded by Major William S. McCaskey, who will be transferred from command of the Department of Texas.

Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, invited Secretary Taft to make an address before the National Millers' Association, in annual convention in St. Louis, on May 30. While the Secretary did not feel able to promise to attend, he suggested that the matter be brought to his attention some time next month.

President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, in a personal message received at the White House today thanks President Roosevelt for bringing about peace in Central America.

Commander Winterhalter, of the U. S. Princeton, which is now at Ceiba, Honduras, has cabled to the Navy Department, stating that the difficulties which foreign fruit steamers had experience in getting their clearances at that port had been satisfactorily adjusted. The Nicaragnan has given assurances that there will be no further restrictions imposed.

Later Will Found.

New York, April 26.—A later will of James Henry Smith, the New York millionaire, who died recently in Japan, than that brought by Lady Mary Cooper, sister of the deceased, and her husband Sir George Cooper, on their arrival here, today, is said to be in existence. Just before she passed away she said: "I did it just for fun. I wanted to see what death was like." The dead girl had appeared in good spirits and had no love affairs or disappointments.

Blizzard in the Northwest.

Chicago was in the grip of a second April blizzard yesterday that made it one of the coldest places in the country. Snow that fell intermittently all day was followed by ice and freezing temperature last night. Throughout the entire northern tier of the States the reign of Boreas is supreme, and the biting teeth of the wind are felt as far south as the Ohio, and even into northern Texas.

Snow in northern Kansas and northern Missouri and freezing weather extending from the Nebraska and Iowa State lines south into the Panhandle of Texas yesterday was reported, with predictions of colder weather. There was a fall of between two and three inches of snow at Dresden, in the northwestern corner of Kansas, a light fall at Concordia, Kans., 150 miles northwest of Kansas City, and half an inch at Marysville, in northern Missouri. Gov. and Mrs. Swanson Receive.

The first social event to be held on the grounds of the Jamestown Exposition was held yesterday evening in the Virginia Building, when Governor and Mrs. Swanson held a reception. The handsome building was brillantly lighted, and a large number of distinguished civil and military and naval people called to pay their respects to the chief executive of the Old Dominion.

Those who received were Governor and Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson, and Mrs. Lucy C. Beale. Among the guests were Admirals Evans and Harrington and the officers of the American and foreign fleet officers and wives of the Virginia National Guard. All of the military and naval officers wore their uniforms, and the scene was one of beauty and animation.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Jamestown Exposition Grounds, Va., April 26.—Three hundred guns at sunrise, five hundred at nine o'clock, a prayer, a speech, a golden key pressed by the President of the United States, a thousand flags unfurled from the rooftops of a new Magic City, then more guns booming from the sides of visiting battleships, from the clean cut hulls of the American fleet, and from the walls of Fortress Monroe. Thus was the exposition begun which celebrates the three hundredth anniversary of the first English settlement in America, and is designed to demonstrate to the world the progress the country has made in art and science, in commerce and invention, since the followers of Captain John Smith blazed the trail through the wilderness and laid the foundations of the Virginia Commonwealth.

For the last two days the throngs of visitors have been pouring into Norfolk and nearby towns in one steady, stream, and now, it is safe to say, there isn't a room or bed unspoken for within ten miles of the exposition grounds. In spite of the efforts that the exposition people have been making during the past fortnight to clear up the grounds and get the exhibits in shape, there remains much to be done. Many of the structures are unfinished, and many of the displays will not be completed until after the middle of May. The transportation facilities to and from Norfolk and Old Point are not all that could be desired but the exposition managers assure the public that more cars will be run on the railroad and more boats on the water routes within a short time, and the present congestion relieved.

The Norfolk Light Artillery Blues started the exposition day with a three-hundred gun salute from the exposition grounds. The arrival of the President's yacht Mayflower, from Washington, was the second event of importance to be recorded, and as soon as she came into view and she joined the fleet of United States and foreign warships, every vessel fired a presidential salute of twenty-one guns. The President's review of the fleet consumed about one hour and as soon as the Mayflower had made her journey around all the warships, the yacht came to anchor and the President gave his reception to the officers of the fleet. Surrounded by a brilliant gathering of gold-laced officers, the President stood on the deck and shook hands with each officer as he came over the side. The officers were received in the order of their rank. By 10 o'clock the reception was ended and the visiting officers returned to their ships. The President was allowed a little time for rest before the exercises began on land, but he was soon on the move again, going ashore in the Mayflower's launch. The President was met at the end of the pier by a military escort, and as he entered the exposition grounds, was given another twenty-one gun salute by the Uniten States artillery. It lacked a few minutes of 11:30 when the President was escorted to the reviewing stand, on Lee's Parade, in the rear of the Auditorium Building, where the opening exercises were to be held.

This is the programme that was followed at the formal opening of the exposition:

2. Address and introduction of the President of the United States by Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, President of the Jamestown Exposition Company.

3. Address by Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States.

4. Opening of the exposition by the President of the United States.

As soon as the President pressed the gold button which was to turn on the electric current throughout the exposition grounds, every wheel in the new city began to turn. At the same moment a thousand flags were unfurled from the roofs of all the buildings of the fair; all the ships in the harbor contributed their share of firing a salute; every band on the grounds burst forth with "The Star Spangled Banner" and all the troops attending the exposition presented arms. The Jamestown Exposition was open.

But that was only the beginning. The military review came next, and for nearly an hour the President stood in front of the stand to receive the saber and rifle salutes of the troops led by Maj. Gen. Frederick D. Grant. Behind the soldiers and sailors came the men from the foreign warships. Many of the Governors of States, who came to the exposition grounds with military escorts, helped swell the most imposing procession of armed men that has been seen south of Mason and Dixon's line since the civil war.

On the reviewing stand with the President were most of the members of his Cabinet, the Vice-President, the Speaker of the House, the officers and directors of the Jamestown Exposition Company, many members of Congress, the United States commissioners to the exposition, about twenty governors, mayors and municipal officers of the cities surrounding Hampton Roads, and last, but far from least, the diplomatic representatives of thirty-four foreign powers. Eight of the nine powers that have ambassadors at the capital, wer erepresented by those distinguished officials in person, and practically all the ministers and charge d'affairs who have their headquarters in Washington were present. The only member of the ambassadorial corps that was absent was Baron Speck von Sternburg, of Germany, who is now abroad. The picturesque costumes of the Turkish, Persian and Chinese Ministers who were accompanied by their richly garbed suites, added Oriental color to the western world picture, and gave the enthusiastic crowds that stretched away from the stand in all directions, additional subjects for cheers and comment.

A distinguished coterie of guests came down from Washington with Secretary Cortelyou on board the steamboat Newport News. Mr. Cortelyou is chairman of the ter-centennial commission, and in addition to the other members of the board he was accompanied by a number of officials and their wives.

The programme this afternoon and evening includes a reception to the President from 5 to 6 by the officers and directors of the exposition company in the rotunda of the Auditorium Building; and a dinner to be given the President by President Harry St. George Tucker of the exposition company at his residence. Between the reception and the dinner, President Roosevelt will be allowed to rest if he desires. If he prefers, however, there will be sights for him to see in the hundreds of exhibit buildings or on the war path.

At the reception those who received were Gov. and Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. William R. Beall and Mrs. Harry St. George Tucker. Mrs. Swanson wore a beautiful Irish point gown, with diamonds. Mrs. Beall was arrayed in black silk illusion and pearls. Mrs. Tucker was in black net and pearls. There were more than 1,000 invited guests, including nearly every visiting notable.

Saturday Mrs. Swanson will be hostess at a large musical to be given in the Virginia building at 3 p. m.

Exposition Grounds, April 26.—Made-to-order weather greeted the thousands of visitors to the Jamestown Exposition opening when they arose this morning. Scarcely a cloud was to be seen in the sky and there was just enough breeze from the bay to keep the beaming sun from burning up the crowds with his smiles.

The picture presented by the warships, their white hulls glistening in the morning sunlight upon the silver-tipped waves was one long to be remembered.

Up to the hour of the President's arrival on the grounds a large force of workmen was busily engaged in cleaning up the debris about the pier and the roads over which he would have to travel te reach the grand stand. In spite of their utmost efforts, however, the view about the landing was not inspiring.

Huge piles of timber and gravel were upon either side of the President and the walk itself was little better than a country road. Very few of the exhibit buildings are anywhere near completion, and most of those that are done on the outside are mere empty shells. In the great machinery building only four out of the hundreds of individual exhibits that are to fill it have been installed. The pathetic unpreparedness of the whole show is accounted for by the fact that, during the last few weeks, the weather had been about as bad as it could be, and the workmen have been unable to do little more than navigate through the seas of mud under foot and the downpour from above. The exposition managers assert that within three weeks or a month, the big show would be all that could be desired.

The attendance at the opening of the exposition was woefully small, owing principally to the fact that the transportation companies were utterly unable to handle the crowds. Early in the morning there was a congestion on the two electric roads that connect Norfolk with Sewell's Point, the exposition site, and by the time President Roosevelt began to speak on the reviewing stand, no more than 10,000 persons had been able to reach the grounds. Late arrivals who put in their appearance shortly after noon, reported that they had been more than two hours on the way. The trip consumed 55 minutes under ordinary conditions. The crippled condition of the transportation facilities was further shown by the fact that steamers bearing excursionists for the exposition were unable to land at the single pier thus far available.

One of the steamers thus held up was the boat placed at the disposal of the visiting newspaper men by the Exposition management. Although this steamer was scheduled to reach the Exposition docks at 10:20, it had not put in appearance when the exercises began.

While President Tucker was making his opening speech, a panic occurred in the great crowd before the stand and for a time it looked as though women and children would be trampled to death in the mass of humanity that swayed backward and forward. Quick action on the part of the Powhatan Guards assisted by the regular troops, avoided a serious situation, and the crowd was finally quited.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt reached the government dock at 11:10 a. m., just 25 minutes behind schedule time, and were welcomed on the pier by President St. George Tucker of the exposition company, and several members of the managing board. "Old Virginia welcomes you," exclaimed Mr. Tucker, as he grasp the executive's fist. "It's a great pleasure to be here," replied the President warmly, as he shook hands all around. "It is a regular Roosevelt day, Mr. President," said one of the gentlemen on the pier. "Yes," laughed the President, "and I hope it will mean a good omen for the exposition."

MR. TUCKER'S ADDRESS.

The address of Hon. St. George Tucker, president of the exposition, had been carefully prepared and was delivered in an impressive manner. He began by saying: "Standing upon an eminence of three centuries of achievements, the American republic pauses today to celebrate, in fitting manner, the ter-centennial of its birth on the banks of the tawny James. The steadiest head grows dizzy, the strongest nerve agitated, while the pulse of the lion-hearted assumes the motion of the trip-hammer in the retrospect of the marvelous progress of three hundred years. The origin of ancient Rome, of Greece and of other countries that in their day have controlled the destinies of the world, are shrouded in mystery, or preserved in fable, by poetic fancy; and even more modern nations find it difficult to point with historic accuracy to the date of their birth. Even our own mother land, endeared to us by so many ties, finds it difficult, in the incursions of the Norsemen, the piratical invasions of the Angles and Saxons, and the misty origin of the ancient Briton, to determine either its paternity or the birthday of the kingdom. More fortunate than these, or any of them, is this American Republic, not only in its knowledge of the date of its birth, but in the possession of the names and characters of those who first faced the dangers of the sea, and then the dangers of the savage and forest, in the founding of the greatest Republic of modern times. And so we gather today in the presence of this distinguished company, representing not only our own country, but the mother country, and, with few exceptions, every civilized nation of the world, to celebrate the ter-centennial of the birth of America." Mr. Tucker rapidly outlined the remarkable growth of the new world during the past three hundred years, as well as the effect upon the same by the many issues which had been raised in Europe during all those years. In closing the speaker said: My heart's desire and prayer to God is that when these gates, which we this day open, shall be closed in November next, and the fleets of the world which gracefully ride these waters, shall have turned their prows homeward, that all the nations of the earth here represented, with mutual respect and admiration increased and strengthened by their friendly intercourse, may be cemented by the ties of an everlasting friendship that shall encircle the earth in one continuous band of amity and peace; and that those of our own people who have gathered here from every part of these United States, for the purpose of kndling anew the fires of liberty in their hearts from these ancient alters, or with open hearts to renew the friendships of olden days, may with one heart and one voice joyfully unite in the aspiration of Massachusetts' greatest orator: "Liberty and union, one and inseparable, now and forever."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The President began his address with conventional greetings to the representatives of foreign governments who were official visitors to the exposition, making special reference to those from Great Britain and Ireland, natives of which formed the nucleus of the civilization of North America. Attention was also called to the pioneer who came to America from continental Europe, while those from the sister republics of this hemisphere were cordially welcomed as were also the representatives of the nations of Asia. The President referred to the evolutions in the civilization of the world, and suggested that all countries adopt the sentiment expressed by Paul, "If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men." The speaker then referred to the object of the gathering, and pictured the corporal's guard which three hundred years ago accelerated the growth of the western civilization which had previously been started by members of the Latin race. The President subsequently traced the growth of the small plant into the colonies which finally evolved into the United States. The President spoke of the prominent part Virginia had taken from the first in the history of the new world, as well as the galaxy of great men which Virginia had given to the country. He spoke feelingly of the great men who had been brought to the front by the civil war, both in the north and south, and to the present united conditions prevailing in the United States. After reviewing the same to some extent and touching lightly on some of the issues which confront the nation, he in closing his address said:

"This great republic of ours shall never become the government of a plutocracy, and it shall never become the government of a mob. God willing, it shall remain what our fathers who foundered it meant it to be—a government in which each man stands on his word."

The Bond Mystery Case.

New York, April 26.—Developments came rapidly today in the bond mystery case of the Trust Company of America, and it is believed that before night the District Attorney will be in possession of confessions detailing the whole operations and that the mysterious third person supposed to be implicated will be under arrest. These revelations are expected to cause one of the greatest sensations in financial circles in recent years. President Thorne of the trust company called upon District Attorney Jerome today and turned over to him a paper which he said was a complete confession made by William O. Douglas, the defaulting clerk, last Sunday. Mr. Thorne then said that as far as the trust company was concerned, he was through with the case, having practically recovered all the missing bonds and that it was now in the hands of Jerome.

To Reappear on the Stage.

New York, April 26.—Mrs. George Jay Gould, formerly known to the stage as Beautiful Edith Kingdon, is to appear once more behind the footlights. She will be one of the stars in two comedies to be presented in the autumn for the benefit of the Liza Day Nursery, in which many society women are interested. John Drew, the actor, will be associated with Mrs. Gould in one piece. The plays will be staged in the grand ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria. Mrs. Gould in the days of her stage career, was a member of Augustin Daly's famous stock company at Daly's Theatre. Since her marriage, her only appearance was in a play presented at the Gould residence at Lakewood five years ago.

Revolutionary Placards in Paris.

Paris, April 26.—Revolutionary placards attacking the army and advocating the destruction of society were discovered this morning posted on various sign boards in important points throughout the city. They created a great sensation. The placards had been posted secretly over night, and handbills containing the same declarations as the placards were passed through several streets. The tone of the placards is primarily anti military. A general attack is made on the army and soldiers are urged to desert. All society should be destroyed, the placards declare, and the soldiers are requested to take part in the extirpation of this "evil." Seven signers of the placards were arrested.

Train Crew Exonerated.

Danbury, Conn., April 26.—By the direction of the Coroner rendered today the train crew of the engine into which Wm. Dwy, a well-known farmer, drove his horse on the New Haven tracks near Hawleyville, is exonerated from all blame. Dwy's death is recorded as a suicide, although the peculiar features of the case make it appear almost beyond belief that a man should have chosen such a method of ending his life. The farmer purposely turned his horse onto the tracks when he heard a train approaching, and drove the animal at full gallop directly into the flying engine. The shock killed both horse and Dwy instantly.

Steamer Abandoned.

London, April 26.—A dispatch to Lloyds from the Scilly Islands says that the steamer Lucifer, from New York to Dublin, was abandoned by the crew in the mid-Atlantic. All members of the crew were picked up by the Sagami, bound from New York to Rotterdam.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold cure and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Miner Hicks Attempts Suicide.

Reno, Nev., April 26.—Rendered despondent by the thought that he might have to return to work after living in luxury for the few months since his rescue from the Edison mine where he was entombed for seventeen days, during which he was fed through a pipe, Lindsay S. Hicks made two attempts to end his life. Today he is recovering from the effects of being "boosted" by a slow-moving freight engine which failed to accomplish Hicks' purpose. Hicks is a failure as a vaudeville star. The prospect of having to work again did not fascinate him, so he jumped in front of a switch engine. A friend pulled him off the track, however. His second attempt was made by jumping before a freight train. It was moving so slowly that Hicks was only knocked down and not seriously hurt.

Star Witness Made Poor Showing.

New York, April 26.—Max Zimmerman, star witness for the prosecution in the trial of the Baroness Anisia Louise de Massey, on the charge of murdering Gustav Simon, millionaire merchant, made a poor showing today, and did little to strengthen the case of the people. Under cross examination, by Attorney Le Barbiere Zimmerman became mixed, and it was shown that his testimony did not altogether agree with that given by him before the coroner. Zimmerman was superintendent of the shirt waist factory, where the baroness was employed and where Simon was killed. He was with Simon ten minutes before the killing, and it was he who stopped the baroness on the stairs a few moments later and called for a policeman. He said she seemed surprised when he stopped her and that she did not say a word about the shooting.

Attack on Governor's Wife.

Jamestown Exposition Grounds, Va., April 26.—Robbery, of a worse crime by a negro, in the stateroom of the wife of Governor Warfield, of Maryland, on board the special excursion steamer Columbia, was narrowly prevented shortly after midnight last night, by the screams of the Governor's wife.

Men rushed to her stateroom, from all parts of the boat The frightened intruder plunged headlong out of the stateroom window. Whether he went overboard or succeeded in hiding on the boat is not known. Mrs. Warfield was unable to identify any of the negroes on the vessel, as the man that entered her room. The negro was leaning over her bed when she was awakened.

Earthquake Shocks in Chili.

Valparaiso, Chili, April 26.—It is feared serious damage has been wrought in southern Chili by an earthquake which has been plainly felt here early today. While no damage was done here, three shock were distinctly felt. The direction of the shocks showed that the earthquake was probably stronger to the south of Valparaiso, and it is feared serious damage may have been caused in the neighborhood of Valdivia, where the people have been in a state of panic for days owing to a volcanic eruption. Residents of Valparaiso were badly frightened by the shocks, as the people have not forgotten the terrible earthquake disaster of last year, which destroyed a great portion of the town.

Secretary Loeb.

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—If Secretary Loeb is to leave the service of the President to become the head of Washington Railway and Electric Company, he refuses to take the public into his confidence. As soon as Loeb reached the exposition grounds, today, he was asked if there was any truth in the story sent out from Washington, which set January 1, as the date of his departure from the White House. "I have not seen the story," he replied. Then when the account was submitted to him he laughed and said: "I haven't a thing to say."

Train Wrecked.

Philadelphia, April 26.—Word was received here today of a wreck at an early hour this morning on the Delaware division of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, in which one man was killed and two seriously injured. J. T. Phillps, of Delmar, the engineer, was instantly killed. John Sturgeon, conductor, and Frank Marning, fireman, were badly injured—the latter may die. The wreck was caused by a light locomotive crashing into a freight.

Pugilist Knocked Out.

Philadelphia, April 26.—Joe Grim, the pugilist, and pride of Little Italy, was knocked out last evening by Patrolman Robb, and today was held under $500 bail by Magistrate Moore for court. Robb was trying to clear a corner of a crowd when Grim and his friends interfered. The policeman after giving Grim a series of upper cuts, and right hand blows, knocked the Italian out in one round.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Masonic Visitations.

Dr. Thomas B. Cochran, Worshipful Master of Alexandria-Washington Masonic Lodge No. 22 of Alexandria, will visit Lodge No. 4, this city, on Friday night, April 26th. Dr. Cochran has the distinction of being master of the lodge over which the immortal George Washington at one time presided as master, and the visit here will be of special interest owing to the fact that it was in Lodge No. 4 of Fredericksburg that Washington was made a Mason. Dr. Cochran will occupy the East during the time the master's degree is being conferred. A large attendance of members is expected and the occasion will be an interesting one. Dr. Cochran will be a guest of Dr. J. P. Stiff, worshipful master of No. 4, during his stay in the city. —[Fredericksburg Star.

Insurgents Again Victorious.

Judge Grinnan, of the Chancery Court of Richmond, ended a litigation yesterday morning, which has been going on for nearly five years, by deciding that the corporation known as the Junior Order of United Americans was in contempt of court by establishing a lodge in the city of Alexandria under a charter issued by the Corporation Commission. May 6 has been fixed for the formal entry of the order and all officers of the society in contempt will be summoned on that date. It was intimated by counsel for the order that the case would be carried to the Supreme Court. The litigation was between the insurgent and loyalist factions of the order and is in favor of the former.

Reunion of Veterans.

Past Grand Commander W. A. Smoot, of this city, has received from D. A. Brown, jr., Quarmaster General of the Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia, a copy of a circular concerning the reunion of the members of that organization in Richmond on the 30th of May next. The circular has special reference to the work of entertaining all ex-Confederates who may visit Richmond on the occasion. Each camp in the State will receive one of the circulars, which appeals to the local organizations to vie with the officers of the Grand Camp in making suitable provisions for the entertainment of the visitors.

In Wright's Behalf.

It is stated that an effort is being made in Alexandria county to secure the signatures of citizens to a petition asking Gov. Swanson to commute to life imprisonment the death sentence of John Wright, colored, alias Joseph Thomas, condemned to be hanged at the Alexandria county jail, May 31, next on the charge of rape at Luna Park, last fall. Wright still persists in his declaration of innocence. Acting on the belief that the sentence will be duly carried out, the county officials have already completed plans for the execution.

"Crawford's Claim."

The play, "Crawford's Claim," which will be presented by the Lyceum Dramatic Club in the hall of the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday evenings next promises to be a pronounced success, judging from the splendid rehersals which have been held. The club which will present this play is the same one that last fall so kindly presented the play, "The Showman's Ward," at the Opera House for the benefit of the widow of the late Charles T. Smith. The play will be under the direction of Mr. A. D. Montier.

The Fishing Season.

About 60,000 herring have arrived at Fishtown since yesterday. They sell from the vessels at $6a6.50 per thousand. The receipts of shad have fallen off, although local gillers report that they are catching more of this species of fish than heretofore this season. One giller, it is said, caught 40 fine specimens a short distance below Jones's Point last night. They are quoted at $25a50 per hundred. Retail prices in market are practically unchanged. There was some animation at Fishtown this morning, a number of cutters being at work.

Society Reorganized.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Methodist Protestant Church, last evening, the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society, of the church, was reorganized and the following officers were elected: R. H. Bartlett, president; Miss Grace Chambers, first vice president; Mrs. Nona Fultz, second vice president; Mrs. Janie Glasgow, treasurer; Roger Sullivan, recording secretary; Warner Fultz, corresponding secretary; Miss Grace Chambers, pianist, and Miss Addie Lindsey, assistant pianist.

Verdict Against Railway.

Charles R. Cover was yesterday in Washington awarded a verdict for $6,000 against the Southern Railway Company for injuries received in a wreck at Covesville, March, 28, 1902. Cover was a clerk in the railway mail service and was at work in the mail car attached to the wrecked train. The mail car was derailed in the accident and Cover claims to have been seriously injured.

The Potomac baseball club of this city yesterday defeated a team of the Episcopal High School by a score of 15 to 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol. Kleinberg, from New York, while on their wedding tour, stopped off here for a few days to pay a visit to their relatives. They are guests of Mr. B. Weil on south St. Asaph street. Mrs. Kleinberg is the daughter of Mr. L. Weil, a former resident of this city.

Mr. C. Edward Duffey is seriously ill at his home on south Royal street.

Mr. J. E. Kidwell, who has been connected with the Panama canal for some time, is home on a furlough. He has recently been transferred to the regular pay service and may be assigned to duty in Washington. He says all the Alexandrians in Panama are doing well.

Mr. Hunter Johnson is the guest of his brother, Mr. J. M. Johnson.

Will Probated.

The will of the late George L. Simpson was admitted to probate today and his widow, Mrs. Virginia Simpson, qualified as executrix. It was at first thought that Mr. Simpson left no will and yesterday morning an order was entered in the Corporation Court appointing Mrs. Simpson administratrix. In the evening in looking over some of Mr. Simpson's account books the will was found written on a blank leaf in the back of a book. Today yesterday's court order was annulled and the will was admitted to probate and Mrs. Simpson qualified as executrix, giving her personal bond in the sum of $35,000. The deceased left his residence at the corner of Cameron and Columbus streets with all its contents to his widow, and to his two sons, G. R. and F. C. Simpsons, he left $10,000 each when they shall have attained the age of 25 years. The remainder he left to his widow so long as she remains single, otherwise it is to be divided between his two sons. The will directs that no bond be required of his executrix and that no appraisement be made of the property. It is said that Mr. Simpson's estate is valued at about $75,000. The will was in Mr. Simpson's own handwriting and was dated February 13, 1903. It is understood that Mrs. Simpson will continue the business of her husband under the same firm name as heretofore.

Alleged Assault.

A young man who gave his name as John Whitbeck arrived here this morning from a fishing shore near Mount Vernon and told Chief Goods that he had been shamefully treated by two men who are operating the shore. One of them had cut his head and the other had chased him from the shore with a pistol. Whitbeck says he is subject to epilepsy, and was assaulted because he refused to enter a boat when ordered to do so. He was told to make his complaint to the Fairfax authorities.

THE EXPOSITION.

Norfolk, Va., April 25.—Nothing could have been finer than the sail down the harbor of Norfolk this morning. A perfect day, with just enough breeze to break the surface of the blue waters into sparkling wavelets and to make the white fleet pull anxiously at its anchors. Nor could there have been a more superb fleet gathered. The whole squadron, more than twenty in number, gleamed in the sunlight with banners flying and everything, to the smallest detail, in perfect order. They stretched in an unbroken line, two hundred yards from Old Point almost to the Norfolk wharf.

As the good steamer "Washington" sailed by, along the line, we had an unrivalled opportunity to view the scene in detail, and we began to feel that the ships were there for the special purpose of greeting us, rather than awaiting the approach of the President on the Mayflower, which will be the event of the day. There were a number of foreign ships scattered here and there but their grey and travel worn aspect made but little showing to the eyes of amateurs beside our spick and span navy.

Even though an advocate of universal peace, before I realized it my heart was thumping with pride and I was saying "build more war ships" until I became conscious that this feeling came from the brute which was still slumbering beneath the thin coating of civilization. But when the other side of the exposition is viewed the victories of peace will be seen to be so much more glorious than those of war, that we shall think of all the appliances of war as worth nothing except as aids to peace.

Later:—Since writing the about I have visited the Exposition grounds. Of course it is incomplete. What Exposition ever was ready by the opening day? But this is no worse than others. The tout ensemble is superb. Most of the large buildings are completed but no exhibits enstalled. The flora of the grounds is already fine and the sidewalks are good.

The State buildings are all complete and many ready for occupancy as is also the Inside Inn and the various restaurants. Norfolk is full of strangers, but the weather is glorious, the transportation facilities excellent and the crowd good natured. All are ready for the coming of the President and to give a royal Virginia welcome to the stranger within our gates.

Death Due to Poisoned Whisky.

The coroner's jury at Danville, investigating the tragedy in the servants' room at the residence of Rev. W. H. Atwell, a well-known Methodist presiding elder, when the dead bodies of three negroes and the unconscious form of another, who later died, were found stretched out on the floor, met yesterday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict that the dead negroes—John Daniels, Ada Moore, Will Spragging and Lillie McCain—came to their death from drinking corn whisky which had been poisoned by unknown parties.

In the room where the gruesome discovery was made was a pint bottle which contained some whisky, which was analyzed by City Physician Julian Robinson and Dr. Howe Miller. The beverage showed traces of cocaine poison.

The police are on the lookout for George Moore, alias Sam Moore, the husband of Ada Moore, who is suspected of having furnished the whisky for the frolic Tuesday night.

Confession of an Embezzler.

Levi Cook Lincoln, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Woonsocket Machine and Power Company at Providence, R. I., admitted yesterday that he had embezzled $92,000 of the company's funds by the issuing and discounting of notes that were issued up to the amount of $5,000 each. The confession was made in the presence of the directors of his company and of representatives of Estabrook & Co., of Providence. Mr. Lincoln's resignation from all these positions was demanded, made, and accepted. He has also resigned the directorate of two Woonsocket banks. Lincoln admitted the money was lost mainly through speculation. He has turned over his handsome home in Woonsocket, together with other property, to the company, but it is believed that there will still be a shortage of about $60,000, which the stockholders will have to bear pro rata.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by E. S Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.
